YANKS FIGHTING ON GERMAN SOIL

NO LONGER CAN HITLER BOAST that the enemy can never invade German soil. American First Army troops under Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges are five miles within the Reich and have met the enemy north of the frontier town of Trier, (1) 55 miles from the Rhine and the great industrial city of Koblenz; (2) the British Second Army strikes across the Netherlands border toward weakest stretch of the Siegfried line; (3) Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army battles on broad front across Moselle river, and (4) Third Army patrols meet advance elements of the United States Seventh Army, driving up from southern France, in the vicinity of Somborn. ANOTHER YANK ARMY FIGHTING ON REICH SOIL

ALLIED BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS OVER RHINELAND AGAIN TODAY

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Sept. 13 (UP)—Allied troops have captured the French channel port of Le Havre and British units have made further progress beyond the Albert Canal in eastern Belgium, a communique said today.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Sept. 13.—(UP)—The greatest aerial bombardment in history rocked the German Rhineland today as two American tank columns rode roughshod through the Nazi borderlands east of Belgium and Luxembourg, blazing an invasion path for six powerful allied armies massed along the frontier from Switzerland to the North Sea.

Headquarters revealed that bombs were dropping on the Siegfried Line and its supporting bases at the rate of six tons a minute, day and night, in a mighty softening-up barrage that thundered into its sixth straight day today.

On the heels of a dramatic warning from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that German civilians must quit the Ruhr and Rhineland or be bombed out, a great parade of American and British warplanes swarmed over the advancing allied armies this morning to spread new ruin through the enemy's west wall fortifications.

ARMISTICE SIGNED

MOSCOW, Sept. 13 (UP)—An armistice agreement was signed by Romania and Russia yesterday, marking the first time the three major Allies have jointly formulated terms for a defeated mutual enemy, it was announced today.

Unlike the Italian armistice, of which the Russians were informed and consulted at long distance, the Romanian terms were drawn up in face-to-face discussions among Soviet and Anglo-American representatives. They reached a full understanding before the terms were submitted to the Romanians.

PLYE IS FAVORITE SON

DANA, Ind., Sept. 13.—(UP)—Columnist Ernie Pyle today had the official stamp of approval at Dana's favorite son.

The Lions' Club of his home town erected a sign at the intersection of U. S. 36 and Ind. 71, near the home of his father and aunt, reading: "Home of Ernie Pyle, Hoosier Vagabond, Author and war correspondent."

MRS. GLENN HARDMAN DIED TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Glenn Hardman, mother of Russell Hardman, of Greencastle, died Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at her home at Mitchell.

Business School Held Reception

Mrs. Blanche M. Wean and the staff of the school of business which she operates, were hosts to several Tuesday evening at which time Mrs. Wean outlined the plans and ambitions of the organization at the time it was opened and this included possibilities for the supplying of skilled young men and women in the field of stenographers and accountants and allied work.

She said the war had up-set many of their plans, but the school is carrying on despite the handicaps and students are being turned out more or less capable of filling the urgent needs. Those who are not highly trained are in that condition, it was explained, because of the urgency that they go into certain work before they are through their training. This comes about from two reasons, Mrs. Wean explained. First was that they were capable of earning sums of money before they were finished and the second was the fact that business is so sorely in need of help.

Mrs. Wean explained what her organization hopes to do once the war is won, and asked many present for suggestions or ideas as to what training was needed. Miss Edith Browning said twenty executives who were interviewed on what they desired in a secretary revealed that spelling was one of the requirements most lacking among secretaries. She also said a good secretary must be loyal, otherwise he won't fit into any organization. The same is true of efficiency and neatness in both work and personal appearances. Prof. Bishop said he thought spelling was being emphasized more in the schools now than for several years and this may correct this deficiency in pupils going out of high school or even the grades. Mr. Coffin of the high school staff also explained plans training schools have made for furthering the work of commercial students. He is the new commercial teacher in Greencastle and from all indications pupils going through the high school and Mrs. Wean's school, will be fully equipped to serve in any secretarial capacity in an excellent manner.

RUSSELL TWP. MAN PROMOTED TO COLONELCY

LEE SUTHERLIN IS ELEVATED FROM RANK OF MAJOR IN SIGNAL CORPS

BRADLEY BEACH, N. J.—The Signal Corps Ground Signal Agency has announced the promotion of Lee Sutherlin to the rank of Colonel. Col. Sutherlin is at present director of Fort Monmouth Signal Laboratory of the Signal Corps Ground Signal Agency.

In 1927, after years of research, Colonel Sutherlin, then associated with Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in East Pittsburgh, Pa., invented the first direct-heated alternating current radio tube. The tube made it possible to operate radios from an electric light circuit thereby eliminating the rug-damaging storage battery and dust collecting dry cells of early reception years.

Colonel Sutherlin joined Westinghouse late in 1920 and, in company with other engineers, began work on development of what was to be the alternating current tube. The first development was the dry cell tube and in 1927, in association with the late William J. Kimmel, he perfected the direct heated alternating current tube, known to the radio-wise as the famous UX 226 and later as the UX26.

The invention was one of the most significant in radio's short history. It did away with the cumbersome, dirty batteries and resulted in the cost of receiving sets and their tubes dropping into the budget range of the average American working man.

Ten years ago Colonel Sutherlin was hailed as the father of a $50,000,000-a-year radio tube manufacturing industry—and the last decade has seen radio's most extensive growth.

His name appears on many patent papers controlling high vacuum tubes for radio and industrial purposes. His position with Westinghouse was that of research engineer, principally in the electronic tube field. He left the concern for the duration of the war Jan. 1, 1941, when he was called to active duty.

He has contributed regularly to publications such as The Electric Journal, the Institute of Radio Engineers, and the American Chemical Society.

Colonel Sutherlin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sutherlin, of Russellville, was born in 1889 in Putnam county, Indiana. "No city, we just lived way out on a farm." He drove or bicycled his way eight miles to Russellville High School where he graduated from the three-year course without being tardy or absent on a single occasion.

Then came 10 years of advanced education at Central Normal College in Danville, Ind., Indiana University and University of Chicago leading to a bachelor of science degree, a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics and a masters' degree in physics. During these years Colonel Sutherlin taught at a country grade school near his home in the grade and high school at Yocahdale, Ind., Muncie High School, Muncie, Ind., and at Culver Military Academy at Culver, Ind.

Colonel Sutherlin enlisted in the Army in 1917 and the following year was commissioned a second lieutenant, advancing to first lieutenant in 1919. He served in military intelligence.

In 1920, after association with Miller, Reese, Hutchison, Inc., New York commercial engineers, he was made a captain in the Signal Corps reserve. Late that year he went with Westinghouse. Colonel Sutherlin reported for active duty in this war at the Signal Corps Laboratories at Fort Monmouth as officer in charge of the fiscal and accounting sections when the personnel of the laboratory totaled only 500. In April, 1942, he became officer in charge of the Service Division of Signal Corps General Development Laboratory at Monmouth and was made director of Fort Monmouth Signal Laboratory December 9, 1942. His military activities, in this war, all have been with this agency.

While employed by the New York Engineering firm Col. Sutherlin spent time in Montreal, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick working on automatic recorders for trans-Atlantic radio.

He was married April 15, 1920, in Chevy Chase, Md., to the former Miss Mable E. Hubbard. With their two boys, 14 and 17 years of age, the Sutherlins live at 20 Russell Ave., on the post at Fort Monmouth.

Study Plans To Crush Japanese

QUEBEC, Sept. 13.—(UP)—President Roosevelt was believed to be pressing today for Anglo-American agreement on the appointment of an American naval officer—probably Admiral Ernest J. King or Admiral Chester W. Nimitz—as supreme commander of the allied campaigns to crush Japan.

This was the leading issue as Mr. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and their high staffs began their second day of planning the strategy for finishing off Japan.

Officials said the British were inclined to favor Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the post of supreme commander and there was some support for him in the American staff too. But the President was understood to want a Navy man.

The top post is certain to go to an American because most of the power brought against Japan will be American—although Britain will send more ships, men and planes to the Far East when Germany is whipped, and China's manpower will be armed increasingly.

Underlying the command question is that of whether the main drive against Japan is to be keyed to naval or to land operations. And there again Mr. Roosevelt was believed to side with the navy view.

Obviously the ultimate destruction of Japanese power at home and in Asia will require great use of land and air as well as naval and amphibious forces. MacArthur is assured of a continuing prominent place. Mr. Roosevelt has promised that MacArthur will be able to fulfill his promise to return to the Philippines. That may occur soon, and MacArthur probably will go on from there.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's forces in China will play an increasingly important role when more supplies can be delivered to them. And the British, with their special interests in recapturing Singapore, Malaya and Hong Kong, will be in there.

But the prospect now is that these operations will be keyed to a massive sea-borne assault—probably to the China coast and then northward.

Perhaps bearing significantly on the decisions being made here was the announcement in Washington that Mr. Roosevelt had nominated Nimitz to be a full admiral in his own right. Nimitz now holds the rank only by virtue of his command of the Pacific fleet. Such nominations usually presage a change in command for the man involved.

The outlook is that Nimitz will get a higher place in the new Pacific set-up than he now holds—either as commander of the whole allied forces against Japan, or as chief of command.

Driving Toward Hungary's Border

MOSCOW, Sept. 13 (UP)—Russian and Romanian armored forces broke across the last mountain barrier protecting the Hungarian plains today and drove down into the broad Muresul river valley in a fast moving drive for the pre-war borders of Hungary, 88 miles to the northwest. In a two-day fighting advance that carried 40 miles across the western shoulder of Transylvanian Alps, the Soviet-Romanian spearhead captured Deva and deployed into the Muresul valley astride the broad motor highway to Budapest, 212 airline miles away.

Simultaneously, other Russian units in central Romania advanced 10 to 18 miles along a 100-mile front in a drive aimed at Cluj, capital of Hungarian-occupied Transylvania.

Far to the north, Soviet tanks and infantrymen hammered out a yard-by-yard advance into the outskirts of Lomza, the main German bastion guarding the southern approaches to East Prussia.

Gov. Dewey Enjoys Rest From Tour

VALENTINE, Neb., Sept. 13.—(UP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey relaxed today at the half-way mark on his transcontinental campaign tour, exuding the most confidence since his nomination in June that he will win the presidential election in November.

There were two major encouraging factors:

1. Optimistic reports from mid-western Republican leaders on the outlook in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota.
2. Returns from Maine's state election showing what Dewey described as "the greatest Republican landslide in the history of the state."

Dewey obviously enjoyed the encouraging news, as well as his period of relaxation at the 12,000-acre-by-the-way ranch of former Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie, western manager of the New York governor's presidential campaign.

It was evident when he walked briskly out on the lawn late yesterday afternoon and announced to the assembled correspondents: "Gentlemen, I have a story for you."

He had just finished a long telephone conversation with Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., during which he received the results of the Maine election in which the Republican party won the gubernatorial and congressional races.

Pointing out that Republican candidates polled more than 70 per cent of the total vote, an increase of seven per cent over 1940, Dewey said it was proof that "the marked Republican trend is continuing at an accelerating pace."

"The people of Maine have demonstrated the rising confidence in the leadership of the Republican party which I have found evidenced everywhere as I came across the country," Dewey said.

"It is becoming clear that the people have decided, not only for their states but in the national government as well, that the peace and prosperity of the United States and the world will be better served by the election of a new and competent administration and that they propose to elect a Republican congress to work with the new administration."

"That will bring a new and refreshing harmony between the executive and legislative branches of government which we so long have needed and which is so essential to the solution of the problems we will face next January."

Dewey was in a jovial mood, too, when he interrupted his conferences with political and cattle industry leaders to enjoy a barbecue lunch on the ranch house lawn.

ALLIED THRUSTS AT PHILIPPINES ARE INCREASING

BOMBINGS BELIEVED PRELUDE TO INVASION OF ISLAND BY AMERICANS

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 13.—(UP)—American battleships have joined the growing offensive in the Philippines theater and land-based and carrier-borne bombers have unloaded additional hundreds of tons of explosives on Japanese protective bases from Palau in the east to Talaud, Halmahera and Celebes in the south, it was disclosed today.

(A Japanese Domei News Agency dispatch, recorded by FCC monitors, reported that 230 American carrier-based planes raided Cebu and Leyte Islands, in the central Philippines Sunday. Domei said the planes, which attacked in waves, were from a task force operating in the eastern waters of the Central Philippines.)

The battleships, from Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Pacific Fleet, made their first appearance in the Philippines area Monday. They joined with cruisers in a heavy bombardment of the Palau island, 560 miles east of the Philippines.

The surface offensive was augmented by a two-day assault of the island group Sunday and Monday by carrier planes which spread 120 tons of bombs through buildings, gun positions and coastal defenses at Babeltaup, Pelelu and Angaur.

While Halsey's fleet was stepping up its sea and air attacks which began last week and included a heavy assault on Mindanao island of the Philippines, General Douglas MacArthur's far eastern air force struck at Palau and carried out new raids on the southern outposts.

The southwest Pacific bombers concentrated on Celebes island, 200 miles south of the Philippines, where Liberators unloaded a record 202 tons on Menado airdrome Sunday without interception.

A communique said the Liberators, in the Urd straight day of heavy attacks on Celebes, destroyed barracks areas near the airdrome and left runways shattered and unserviceable.

Japanese shipping again was hit off Celebes and Ceram islands, with five cargo vessels, totaling approximately 10,000 tons, being sunk or damaged.

Medium bombers struck within 10 miles of Mindanao to hit the Talaud islands, while Liberators made two new assaults on Japanese airdromes on northern Halmahera, another 150 miles south.

Various types of planes joined in a series of raids Sunday and Monday on Ceram and Boeroe, dropping 126 tons of bombs mostly on airdromes. Although there was no aerial opposition, three Allied planes were lost to anti-aircraft fire.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz meantime disclosed that Seventh AAF Liberators dropped 72 tons of bombs on by-passed Truk atoll in the central Carolines Sunday. One Japanese interceptor was shot down and five or six others damaged. Three Liberators were damaged slightly.

STUDY PLANS

The American point of view on these questions certainly was threshed out to a large degree in President Roosevelt's Pearl Harbor talks with Nimitz and MacArthur last month which were officially described as "very necessary preliminary" to the current conference.

Despite the emphasis on the Pacific, the conferences here did not exclude the war in Europe and the President and the prime minister undoubtedly will go over plans for the treatment of Germany after her eventual "unconditional surrender," and other European problems.

Mr. Roosevelt and the prime minister held a long session with their staff chiefs yesterday afternoon and expected to resume these joint talks this morning.

OBITUARY

Howard Lewis LeRoy Evans the son of the late Pleasant David Evans and Mary E. Evans was born at Spencer, Indiana, in Owen County on the twenty-sixth day of September, 1910 and departed this life on September the first, 1944 at 6:50 P. M. at the age of 33 years 11 months and 6 days, at the Rockville Sanatorium at Rockville, Indiana. Howard attended both the grade and high school at Spencer, Ind. After graduating from both schools and after the death of his father, he decided to remain at home and try best to look after his mother and two sisters. After staying a few years with them he decided to come to the city of Greencastle, to make it his home and while here he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Johnson and to this union was born a son David Evans. Howard was always an obedient child to his parents never causing them any heartaches or griefs. After living in Greencastle for a few years and working here as a barber he decided to go to Indianapolis, to work in a defense plant but not forgetting his aged mother whom he cherished very much. While at Indianapolis he began to fail in health and had to come back to Greencastle to try to gain his health back and for awhile it looked as if he was doing so, but he never did regain it back again. Then he decided to go to the sanatorium at Rockville, Ind. and while there he did all within their power to aid him to regain his health. On account of the shortage of nurses his two sisters tried to nurse him back to health and of which he greatly appreciated. Howard was liked by all who knew him. Before he departed this life he sought out the Almighty God and declared that he had found Jesus. He declared that "He was not afraid to die and was glad to meet his Maker, and that for no one to worry as he was ready to face death." That was so much consolation to his aged mother, relatives and friends. To his mother who had tried so hard earlier in life to get him to seek God so he could have been of more service to God. He leaves to mourn his death, a son, David Evans, a mother, Mary Evans, three sisters, Lena Mae James, Delilah Belle Coleman of Greencastle and Mary Burnett of Kokomo, Ind. Seven brothers, Joseph of Muncie, George and Robert of Spencer, Pleasant, Fred and Jesse of Bloomington and William of Lafayette, Ind., with a host of nephews, nieces and friends.

Sunset and evening star
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning at the bar

When I put out to sea,
But a tide as moving seems asleep
Too full for sound and foam
When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turn again home.

Twilight and evening bell
And after that the dark
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark;

For though from out our bourne of time and place
The floods may bear me far
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our neighbors and friends and to all those who assisted us in anyway during the time of sickness and death of our son and brother.

Mrs. Mary Evans and family.

GERMANS LOSE 326 PLANES IN PAST TWO DAYS

LONDON, Sept. 13. (UP)—Hundreds of allied bombers and fighters took off from British and French bases today en route to Germany to intensify an all-out aerial offensive which has destroyed at least 326 planes of the dying Luftwaffe in two days.

The Germans lost 144 planes to the Americans yesterday and seven to the RAF Monday night. British Halifaxes hammered three synthetic oil plants in the Ruhr and the rail town of Munster yesterday while Italian-based American bombers hit airplane factories and airbases throughout Germany. When results of these operations are disclosed they are expected to send the German aerial losses of yesterday well over 150. The Nazis lost 175 planes on Monday.

Up to 1,000 British heavy bombers took part in last night's raid on Frankfurt which the air ministry said was attacked for tactical reasons "to have an immediate influence in the course of the land battle."

The bombers concentrated on the main rail yard west of Frankfurt which was packed with military traffic headed for the Siegfried Line.
Returning pilots reported stiff ground and aerial opposition over the target, which was left studded with fires.

Part of the RAF force also hit Stuttgart in clear weather, spreading further damage through battered industrial plants producing electrical equipment, engines and parts for the Luftwaffe. Mosquitos raided Berlin for the second straight night.

The heaviest toll of enemy aircraft yesterday was taken by Flying Fortresses. Liberators and fighters of the Eighth Air Force during raids on natural and synthetic oil plants, ordnance and other military works from Czechoslovakia to the western front.

Fighter pilots shot down 53 German planes, mostly FW-190's and
